Karaktär Intensiv, elegant och charmig doft med inslag av plommon, körsbär, björnbär, moreller, rosenblad, tobak och fat. Klassisk, smakrik Barolo med inslag av läder och alpina örter. Ett elegant vin med snygga, välintegrerade tanniner. Lång harmonisk eftersmak.

Tillverkning Druvorna skördades för hand i oktober. De olika vingårdslägena vinifieras och lagras separat. Vinifieringen varierar för att framhäva den särskilda terroiren från varje individuellt vingårdsläge. Druvorna avstjälkades innan de pressades skonsamt och musten fick sedan jäsa med skalkkontakt i 3-4 veckor i ståltank. Malolaktisk jäsning sker i ekfat. Vinet har lagrats i ungefär 30 månader i en kombination av stora slavoniska ekfat och en mindre del franska barriquer. Efter lagring blendas vinet. Vinet är ofiltrerat.

Passar till Serveras vid 16-18°C till rätter av lamm, nöt eller vilt, gärna med inslag av svamp eller tryffel. Vinet passar också utmärkt till lagrade hårdostar.

Information Vinet hette tidigare Barolo Castiglione, men från och med årgång 2021 heter vinet numera enbart "Barolo".

Omdömen

Wine Advocate 94p

Drink Date: 2025 - 2040 This bottle marks the end of an era, and all you Barolo Castiglione fans out there are in for some very bad news. The name "Castiglione" is being taking off the bottle, and what we have instead is the Vietti 2021 Barolo. In truth, the name "Castiglione" does appear in very small, small letters at the bottom of the label for old time's sake, but during my discussion during this tasting, I agreed to remove it from the wine's official name in our database. I'm told it will definitely be gone by the next release. Apparently, the estate was on the wrong end of a copyright issue, so it had to go. Winemaking has not changed, and the wine remains a blend of 20-plus MGA sites. There is no particular set formula. The parcels are fermented separately and a final blending decision is made further down the road. You still get the same phenomenal value. This wine offers firm structure, plummy dark fruit flavors and elegantly chalky tannins. The finish is a little dry, and that ending gives the wine a near-term personality.

Wine Spectator 92p

Macerated cherry, strawberry, rose hip, hay, earth and eucalyptus aromas and flavors highlight this red. Dusty tannins remain on the finish, leaving a chalky feel, yet this feels balanced. Fine length. Best from 2028 through 2042.

Drinking Window: 2027 - 2039 Two years on from the departure of former owners Luca Currado and Elena Penna, Vietti's wines continue to honour their legacy. The only patent change is the removal of 'Castiglione' from the label of the estate's classic Barolo. The construct remains the same, however: a multi-MGA, vintage-specific blend demonstrating the purity and precision found across the range. Gorgeously perfumed with rose, violet, black raspberry, liquorice and forest undergrowth among its many nuances, it boasts just the right amount of tightness, well measured density and a sophisticated chalky grip.
